

Permanent Placement & Consulting Services in Information Technology

Senior Cloud Architect (Azure) – Fort Worth, TX

Global company seeking an Azure Cloud SME to lead complete architecture and deployment of Hybrid Cloud solution for their numerous operations companies

- Establish, document and communicate key principles and policies of IS/IT Architecture;
- Support operating companies, divisions and Group entities in the selection of IS/IT platforms;
- Participate in the design and pattern development process, playing an active role in the quality assurance of any design before being adopted by the group;
- Identifying opportunities for deriving value from intelligent use of information and systems;
- Participate in audit-related activities to ensure compliance with Group policies and develop action plans for the remediation of non-conformities.

Responsibilities:

Including but not limited to:

- Working with internal and external parties:
 - design and maintain effective architectural patterns and frameworks that conform to appropriate levels of performance, security and stability;
 - support project delivery activities by providing high-quality architectural designs that accommodate effective project quality management;
 - taking responsibility for ensuring that the architecture balances functional, service quality and systems management requirements;
 - assist in resolving complex system stability or performance issues
 - define ITIL-focused service catalogues, including roles, responsibilities and demarcation tests
 - managing the scope and quality of third party contributions to projects;
 - ensure platform selection processes considers both current and expected requirements and conforms to the key architectural principles;